Notes

- (1) A class accumulation shares, net of fees priced at midday UK time, net dividends reinvested. Source: Valu-Trac Investment Management Ltd.
- (2) MSCI World Index in Sterling, net dividends reinvested, priced at close of business US time, source: MSCI Inc. The MSCI World Index is a generic portfolio of global equities across all sectors and, as such, is a fair comparison given the Fund is also global and sector agnostic.
- (3) iBoxx GBP Gilts Index, source: Refinitiv.
- (4) UK Pound Sterling Overnight Index SONIA, source: Refinitiv.
- (5) A (retail) class AMC 0.9% / I (institutional) class AMC 0.7%. (I-class for sums over £1m or at manager's discretion).
- (6) This figure will reduce if the fund increases in size: £30,000 of fixed costs over £10m = 0.30% but only 0.03% over £100m, for example.
- (7) The fund normally only buys and sells positions once a month to keep trading costs as low as possible.

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide capital growth over the medium to long term. The Fund will aim to meet its objectives by employing two primary investment techniques:

1. True diversification which may include exposure to equities, fixed income, commodities, real estate and infrastructure in different jurisdictions throughout the world, primarily using Exchange Traded Funds.
2. Formula-based trend following.

Monthly Commentary (July 2021)

Our signals at the beginning of July gave us only one substantive trade: To exit our Euro denominated high yield bond silo. This left the fund completely out of all fixed income (bond) products but long of all of our equity silos, all of our commodity silos (other than gold), all of our real estate silos and infrastructure. The fund held 18 of our 24 "risk" assets throughout the course of the month.

In the last few months, I've made the point that the bond market has been challenged for a number of reasons, but equities and commodities have both been benefiting from the post-COVID recovery. The fund continues to be positioned to benefit from this situation, assuming it continues as the year goes on. That said, within equities, emerging markets were hit pretty heavily in July. The Chinese government announced a number of regulatory clampdowns which sent the Shanghai and Hong Kong stock markets down sharply.

This impacted our "core" and Asian emerging market silos - both of which remained nicely in the black overall, as we have held them for some months - but to a lesser extent than they had been at the start of the month. As a result, the fund was down 0.3% in the month overall (worth noting that the core emerging markets index was down 6.7% - this perhaps highlights the benefits of diversification when it comes to protecting that kind of intra-month downside in one particular market).

As I write this towards the end of the first half of August, the fund has made pleasing progress since July, thanks to this equities and commodities theme. We hope that they continue to run into the end of the year as the northern hemisphere gets back to work after a well-earned August break.

Key Risks

- Counterparty risk: The Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Fund.
 - Market Risk: External factors can cause an entire asset class to decline in value which would result in a decrease in the value of investments. The Fund aims to mitigate this risk by investing in all major asset classes in many geographic regions and owning assets which are often negatively correlated.
 - Concentration Risk: The Fund seeks to minimise concentration risk by owning
- a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.
- Liquidity Risk: adverse market conditions may affect the ability to sell certain assets when necessary. The Fund invests nearly exclusively in large, liquid ETFs so liquidity risk should be significantly lower than in a more conventional actively managed fund investing in single assets.
