The investment objective of the Fund is to provide capital growth over the medium to long term. The Fund will aim to meet its objectives by employing two primary investment techniques:

- True diversification which may include exposure to equities, fixed income, 1 commodities, real estate and infrastructure in different jurisdictions throughout the world, primarily using Exchange Traded Funds.

Monthly Commentary (October 2022)

The major financial markets development of 2022 has been the resurgence of global inflation and the policy response to it. Consumer prices are rising at 8.2% in the USA, 10.1% in the UK and 10.7% in the Euro area. The initial impetus to inflation came from rising energy prices following the invasion of Ukraine and from tight commodity prices. Although commodity and energy prices and freight costs are now in decline, tight labour markets risk a durable inflation trend.

The policy response has been robust, with the Federal Reserve Board raising the Fed Funds Rate from 0% in March to 3.75% at the time of writing. Rates have similarly been raised by the Bank of England and the ECB. Higher yields have spread throughout the yield curve with 10 year US Treasuries yielding 4.1%, a rise of 254 basis points over the past year, 10 year Gilts yielding 3.7%, a rise of 265 basis points and 10 year Bunds yielding 2.1% for a rise of 230 basis points, marking the end of negative yields.

Buy Position Trades

- [None]

Equity markets have reacted negatively to these inclement monetary conditions. The MSCI World is down 19.7% year to date while MSCI Emerging markets have declined 29.2%. Further headwinds have come from the tense geo-political situation with regard to both Russia and China, the risk of policy paralysis following the U.S. mid-term elections and, in the UK, the turbulence following the short-lived Truss administration. The fund has exhibited its defensive qualities with a 3.2% decline year to date. During October the trend following methodology caused the liquidation of three further equity positions as well as Emerging Market debt and US real estate. This left the fund approximately 30% invested and 70% in cash or cash equivalents throughout the month.

Key Risks

- Counterparty risk: The Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Fund.
- Market Risk: External factors can cause an entire asset class to decline in value which would result in a decrease in the value of investments. The Fund aims to mitigate this risk by investing in all major asset classes in many geographic regions and owning assets which are often negatively correlated.
- Concentration Risk: The Fund seeks to minimise concentration risk by owning a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.

Liquidity Risk: adverse market conditions may affect the ability to sell certain assets when necessary. The Fund invests nearly exclusively in large, liquid ETFs so liquidity risk should be significantly lower than in a more conventional actively managed fund investing in single assets.
